1. ANATOMY APPLIED TO DANCE

Instructors: Omar De Bartolomeo, Sara Benedetti

Credits (CFA): 6

Evaluation: exam

Objectives

The course teaches the basics of locomotor system anatomy and biomechanics for a more complete understanding of movement in ballet.

Students will learn the basics of stretching and palpatory anatomy to better understand their practical applications.

Program

- General morphology: planes and axes, terminology
- Tissue morphology: epithelial (brief intro), connective, muscular, nervous (brief intro)
- Tissue morphology: bone, cartilage, connective proper (brief intro)
- Bone tissue: skeleton, characteristics and subsystems
- Joints: classification, ligaments, biomechanics
- Musculoskeletal tissue: classification, functions, contraction types
- Stretching: general principles, types
- Palpatory anatomy: body reference points
- Body regions: pelvis, pelvic cavity, lower limbs (bones, joints, muscles, biomechanics, stretching, and palpatory anatomy)
- Correction of technique errors
- Pathologies by age and body region

3. HISTORY OF BALLET MUSIC

Instructor: Fabio Sartorelli

Credits (CFA): 3

Evaluation: Pass/Fail

Objectives

- Develop an ear for music and musical periods
- Appreciate the relationship between musical art and the society (audience, customs, geography, etc.) in which it develops
- Gain a clear idea of the place occupied by “ballet music” in different historical periods
- Become acquainted with the main composers of ballet music and their contemporaries
- Understand the limits and strong points of “ballet music” as well as the advantages and disadvantages of its denial during the twentieth century

Program

The course will focus on musical analysis, watching and hearing great ballets from the Romantic period and the twentieth century, from Giselle to The Nutcracker and from Petruška to Kammerballet by van Manen. Score study—evaluating style, rhythm, harmony, timbre, and narrative strategy—will never be an end in itself but always placed within a historical context and juxtaposed with other musical genres, with particular attention to the coeval operatic, symphonic, and piano works. Conducted so as to be comprehensible to students without specific musical knowledge, this analysis will lay the groundwork for developing a “history of style” and, more generally, a history of music via the ballet genre.

4. BALLET TECHNIQUE AND ANALYSIS

Instructors: Amelia Colombini, Elisa Scala

Credits (CFA): 12

Evaluation: compulsory exam (prerequisite for further study)

Objectives

Gain familiarity with the program of the first- and second-year Ballet School programs. Attention will be dedicated to practical lessons to instill or develop a basic knowledge of theory with particular emphasis on execution and corrective guidance for each participant.

Program

- Definition and biomechanical analysis of every basic position and movement in the program
- How to proceed with a detailed teaching plan of academic technique and rhythmic composition
- How to analyze and use CDs and/or audio files as accompaniment for dance lessons

Textbooks

5. BALLET INSTRUCTION METHOD AND PLANNING

Instructors: Amelia Colombini, Elisa Scala

Credits (CFA): 12

Evaluation: compulsory exam (prerequisite for further study)

Objectives

- Gain familiarity with the ballet teaching program of the 1st and 2nd courses.
- Coordination, musicality, awareness, and knowledge of the basic units in the teaching program

Program

- Analysis of movement; transformation of movement into dance steps and development of the steps in all its forms per program
- Compose center exercises adhering to the logic of the barre
- Analyze a dance step, which becomes an exercise
- Construct and compose simple exercises to foster a conscious learning process in the students
- Plan and prepare three standard lessons following the yearly teaching program

Textbooks

- Materials provided by the instructor

6. HISTORY OF DANCE

Instructor: Maria Francesca Pedroni

Credits (CFA): 2

Evaluation: exam

Objectives

At the end of the course, the student shall demonstrate that they have acquired basic knowledge of the history of dance in the western culture of the performing arts from the Renaissance to the present day and the ability to contextualize, historically and critically, the analysis of the works, artists, and phenomena discussed in the lessons.

Program

The course involves a series of lessons dedicated to selected titles, phenomena, and artists that are emblematic of the development of the art of dance. Among the many possible choices for 19th-century, 20th-century, and contemporary ballet, special regard is given to titles and choreographers that have been a vital part of the major international ballet companies, particularly Teatro alla Scala, as well as phenomena such as neoclassicism, Tanztheater, contemporary choreography by internationally famous artists, as well as the developing repertoire of major dance companies. A fundamental characteristic of the course is the coordination of its content with the activities of the Ballet School and it will thus be keyed to the La Scala Academy events calendar. The course involves critical analysis and comment on videos regarding the topics discussed (documentaries, performances, etc.).

Lesson program:

- Dance and ballet: course introduction
- Romantic ballet, Paris, and the new aesthetic of the ballerina in La Sylphide and Giselle
- The golden age of Russian late-romantic-period ballet with the maestro of maestros: Marius Petipa
- A new impetus in the twentieth century. The Ballets Russes of Sergei Diaghilev and Le Sacre du Printemps by Nijinsky / Stravinsky. Comparison with the versions by Maurice Béjart and Pina Bausch in the repertoire of major ballet repertory companies
- George Balanchine, William Forsythe, Merce Cunningham: neoclassicism, post-classicism, and abstract choreography: Jewels, In the Middle Somewhat Elevated, Points in Space
- Twentieth-century narrative ballet. John Cranko, Kenneth MacMillan, John Neumeier, Roland Petit (a tour of Onegin, Romeo and Juliet, Dame aux Camélias, Carmen/Le Jeune Homme et la Mort with in-depth study of one of the proposed titles to be chosen on the basis of the fit between the La Scala ballet season and the lesson calendar.
- Humanity and the language of dance between self-narration and new sciences: perspectives on the choreographic and theatrical approach of Pina Bausch's Tanztheater (Walzer / Palermo Palermo etc.) and the contemporary ballet of Wayne McGregor between literature and neuroscience (Chroma, Wolf Works etc.)

N.B. Possible further study of ballets in the preparation process with students of the La Scala Academy Ballet School or the Teatro alla Scala Corps de Ballet may be introduced in parallel to the unit on History of Dance if relevant to the curriculum and activities planned for 1st-year students.

7. MUSIC FOR DANCE LESSONS

Instructors: Marco Paderni, Eliana Grasso

Credits (CFA): 2

Evaluation: Pass/Fail

Objectives

The course objective is to develop knowledge and understanding of the relationship between dance lesson and musical accompaniment, with special regard for the cooperative relationship established between instructor and piano accompanist. During the first year, aspiring dance instructors will develop the ability to properly combine their sequences of floor or barre steps with music, ensuring effective communication of their musical choices to the pianist and to their ballet students.

Program

- Brief review of music theory
- Choice of a musical theme to suit the dance step: analysis of rhythm, melody, movement
- Analysis of musical form
- Possible alterations of the structure of the music
- Analysis of musical pieces from the ballet, instrumental, chamber, opera, and symphony repertoires

11. DANCE SUPPORT TECHNIQUES

Instructor: Nadia Garuti

Credits (CFA): 2

Evaluation: Pass/Fail

Objectives

The course teaches students how to use a problem solving methodology: observation, strategies and best practices for teaching basic ballet steps to children.

Program

- Introduction to the discipline: a strategy for learning technique and basic steps
- Active observation
- Stimulate learning of alignment among the parts of the body through exercises to be performed sitting, standing, and shifting the weight of the body in dynamic movement
- Walking as a basic learning opportunity: spontaneous, with music, coordinated with movement of the arms
- Facilitating objects (strings, ribbons, balls, etc.): the transitional object
- Elements of the history of ballet positions
- Position of the legs: 6th position, parallel and open, 1st position, 2nd position, 3rd position, 5th position and 4th position in transition
- How to move into the arm positions
- Principles of ballet: extension, lift, oppositions, counterweight, placement, balance, sliding, leaping, coordination, dehors, manner, musicality, space, directions
- The basic rules for each part of the body
- The basic steps
- Derived or composite steps
- Scenic steps: Tarantella, Waltz, Polka, Polonaise
- Coordination of the different parts of the body
- Proper musicality as an indissoluble bond
- The importance of space: the body in space, the directions, the points in the room, and épaulement
- Proposed placement program

Barre:

- Demi-plié; Relevé; Battement tendu; Battement tendu pour le pied; Battement tendu sur le demi-plié; Battement tendu with lateral support with or without shifting of the weight of the body; Passé par terre; Grand-plié (also combining sideways flexion of the torso and with a single hand in front on the barre); Battement jeté (attention to music); Rond de jambe par terre; Retiré e passé; slow battement forward and backward (two hands on the barre); to the second position; Positions pour le cou-de-pied (conventional, embraced and behind); Battement fondu in all directions, on the floor and at 45°; Battement frappé; Grand battement (initially with shoulders to the barre, then sideways, and behind)

Center:

- Walking to music in 2/4 and 3/4 and 'discord', also clapping hands; Running with deep, broad steps and coordination of the arms; Port de bras, en face and in épaulement. Preparatory, in first position and in second position; Demi plié and grand plié on floor, with arms held still in the positions and with port de bras; Temps lié from the 1st position en face and in épaulement; Study of the movement of the head in turns, en face, in quarters, with half turn and in diagonal

Leaps:

- Trampolines from the 6th position, In diagonal: Skipping, Skipping with dynamic pas de chat; Leaps from the 6th position, with plié and fast extension or following; Leaps with pas assemblé; Leaps from the 6th position, turning at the points of the room at different speeds and tempi; Emboité leaps from the 6th position following and with closure; Emboité leaps with forward attitude; Emboité leaps in 6th position behind (Tarantella type); Pas de chat from the 6th position; Tarantella steps; Waltz step from the 6th position and turning in the points of the room, also coordinating the arms to en face; Polka step forward effacé and croisé, behind, alone or in pairs side-by-side with intertwined arms; Polonaise

12. OBSERVATION AND ANALYSIS OF THE BALLET REPERTOIRE

Instructors: Language professionals

Credits (CFA): 1

Evaluation: Pass/Fail

Objectives

- Become acquainted with the variations in the ballet repertoire inherent in the curricula for the 1st and 2nd course
- Acquire fundamental notions for a correct choreographic analysis of the classical, modern, and contemporary ballet repertoire.

Program

- Viewing video extracts of variations in the ballet repertoire relating to the curricula of the 1st and 2nd year of ballet
- Assistance in La Scala Academy Ballet School lessons
- Assistance in ballet lessons of the Teatro alla Scala Corps de Ballet
- Assistance in rehearsals of ballets on the Teatro alla Scala season program

Textbooks

- Materials provided by the instructor

13. STUDENT TEACHING

Instructor: Elisa Scala, Ballet School instructors

Credits (CFA): 3

Evaluation: Pass/Fail (prerequisite for further study)

Objectives

- Further develop knowledge acquired in the Ballet Technique and Analysis and the Ballet Instruction Method and Planning courses via the observation of pedagogical and teaching processes in Ballet School lessons
- Acquire the ability to lead a ballet lesson in a first- or second-year course via student teaching in Ballet School courses

The teaching method for the internship involves observations of lessons in the rehearsal room and student teaching in Ballet School lessons according to the Teatro alla Scala curricula.

The experience of student teaching allows participants to apply what they have learned in the classroom to an actual Ballet School lesson, while observation of ballet lessons allows them to analyze in greater depth the pedagogical and teaching processes in Ballet School lessons.

Program

- Observe, using standardized assessment grids, ballet lessons from the first- and second-year courses at the La Scala Academy Ballet School.
- Plan and organize a ballet lesson for the first- and second-year program with coordinated, expressive, and musical content

Textbooks

- Materials provided by the instructor

14. ENGLISH

Instructors: Language professionals

Credits (CFA): 4

Evaluation: exam

Objectives

- Expand and consolidate competencies in written and spoken English

Program

The program aims to consolidate communicational competencies in intermediate-level English corresponding to levels B1-B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (see European Language Portfolio <https://www.coe.int/en/web/portfolio>), with particular emphasis on practice of principal language structures, formulation of complex sentences (passive, reported speech, narration), and enrichment of a specialized vocabulary.

15. ELECTIVES

15.1. BEGINNING BALLET, Instructor: Eliane Arditì

Credits (CFA): 2

Evaluation: N/A

Objectives

- Gain pedagogical knowledge regarding the teacher-student relationship
- Learn the most appropriate method for introducing children ages 6-10 to the world of dance

Program

The instructional and formative elements for teaching beginning ballet will be analyzed in order to develop a method that makes it possible to achieve objectives in a step-by-step process. The course alternates classroom teaching and study with practical exercises. Each topic will be developed with the objective of producing appropriate exercises. Students will also assist in lessons and meet with Ballet School beginning ballet instructors.
